EL SEGUNDO, CA (PRWEB) APRIL 06, 2016

On April 5th, 2016 Corra Group celebrates its eleventh year in business as an employment screening and corporate research service. The El Segundo, California based company started from modest beginnings in a spare bedroom and now enjoys a global footprint, servicing clients throughout the United States and around the world.

“It is hard to believe that eleven years have passed,” said Corra Group Co-Founder, Gordon Basichis. “My partner, Nick Gustavson, and I started Corra Group on a shoestring in a spare bedroom with two desks, computers, a fax, and a telephone. We moved soon after to commercial office in the Venice area of Los Angeles, and then after a bit we moved to our headquarters in the El Segundo, California business park. Our neighbors are leaders in defense and aerospace, technology, and new media. For extra measure we have Stamps.com across the parking lot and Mattel right up the street.

“Nick and I started the company with the idea would offer personal service to all of our clients, be it private equity and venture capital groups, defense industry contractors, television and film production companies, advertising agencies, healthcare related services, or new media and technology companies. We have helped a lot of companies get off the ground with their employment screening choices, not the least of which are trucking and transportation companies that need to meet their DOT compliance mandates.

Basichis pointed out that since the Great Recession Corra Group has moved further into corporate research and due diligence, and continues to expand its selection of international background checks to both global investigation agencies, financial entities, and employers in need of vetting foreign employment candidates.

“It has been eleven years and we are still a growing business concern,” said Basichis. “We recently renewed our lease for another six years, so I believe we will be in business conducting background checks for years to come.”

BACKGROUND: Corra operates as Corra Group and specializes in employment screening and corporate research. It is one of the few companies that will answer the phone.
