"Our business is expanding and elevon provides the amenity-rich accommodations that we are looking for," Juan Llaca, President of Vista Investments. The company will be more than doubling their current office space with their move to elevon to make room for their fast growth and expansion. "We are continuing to grow through hotel acquisitions, development, and the formation of our full-service management company," Llaca added.

The design of the space occupied by Vista Investments will be elegant, timeless and modern. Natural materials such as dark steel, polished concrete and rich walnut will be featured in clean white spaces with occasional pops of color. "Our residential type kitchen on the first floor will contain crafted custom millwork by Henrybuilt appliances for full catered events," Amanda Smith, Project Architect for Vista Investments.

The two story building with an added 1,000 square foot mezzanine will include four conference rooms, breakout spaces for collaboration, a polished main entryway, a wine cellar and a whiskey bar; perfect for gatherings large and small. "First and foremost the design is clean and functional, but each space has custom features that speak to the use and attitude of the work happening within. The careful detailing, accent lighting, and use of materials what appears to be a simple design, something special." Smith

Masterplanned and designed by Ehrlich Architects (winner of American Institute of Architects 2015 AIA Architecture Firm Award), elevon offers the rare opportunity to purchase and control one's work environment within a neighborhood-like setting. elevon is developed by Continental Development Corporation and Mar Ventures, Inc. with Ware Malcomb as the executive architect. Offices at elevon total 210,000-square-foot plus 13,500 square feet of high-end restaurants and retail.

Vista Investments is expected to move to their new home at the elevon campus by the end of the year. Their in-house design team is working hard on making sure that the space upholds their executive, hospitable stature.
